CONTENTS

Foreword by A. P. Vayda, 1968 vii
Prefaces, 1968, 1984 xiii
Note on Maring Orthography xvii
1. Ritual, Ecology, and Systems 1
2. The Tsembaga 8
3. Relations with the Immediate Environment 32
4. Relations with Other Local Populations 99
5. The Ritual Cycle 153
6. Ritual and the Regulation of Ecological Systems 224

Appendices
1. Rainfall 243
2. Soils 244
3. Floristic Composition of Primary Forest 247
4. Estimating Yields per Unit Area 252
5. Energy Expenditure in Gardening 256
6. Secondary Growth 263
7. Commonly Propagated Plants 270
8. Nondomesticated Resources 271
9. Diet 278
10. Carrying Capacity 285

Epilogue, 1984
Outline of Contents 299
Introduction 301
1. Ecology as Vulgar Materialism 304
2. Economism, Ecologism, and Logos 308
3. Ecological Principles and Native Understandings 313
4. Ecology Fetishism, Ecological Explanation, and an Ecological Problematic 331
5. Further Discussion of Cognized Models 337
6. Function and Description 345
7. Ecology and the Rationality of Systems 350
8. Fallacy, Final Cause, and Formal Cause 353
9. Systemic Analysis 362
10. Units and Their Implications 371
11. Negative Feedback 404
12. Ritual: Regulated or Regulating? 408
13. Transformation 411
14. Objective and Subjective Principles in Anthropology 432
15. The Ecology of Explanation 436
Appendix 11. Nutrition in Pigs for the Ancestors 445
Bibliography for the 1968 Edition 481
Supplementary Bibliography for the 1984 Edition 488
Index 497